Fears over plans to quarry on Portland's coastal strip

ALKERS took to Portland's coastal strip on Sunday to tell the authorities they want to keep it the way it is.

Almost 100 people walked the 1.5 mile section between the Bill and Cheyne House in response to fears that the area could be opened up to quarrying.

Julian Andrews, one of the organisers, said: "For people who fish, people who walk, people who ride bikes, kayaking and so on...we want to keep it as beautiful as it is.' His plea was echoed by

Portland Mayor Cllr Sandy West: "This is a unique place and, as a Kimberlin, I look out of my door every day and I Turn to page 3

TRAVEL counsellor Janine Bedford is a Yorkshire girl from Leeds, but her husband's work commitments brought them to the Jurassic Coast where they now live with their two daughters and a very lively springer spaniel.

She now represents Travel Counsellors for the local area, helping people plan their dream holidays.

WHAT inspired you to become a travel consultant?

I HAVE always had a passion for travel having been lucky enough to have visited lots of exciting places in Europe, Asia, Australia, India and the USA. I decided to move into travel many years ago as I just love the buzz of finding the perfect holiday for my clients.

WHAT services do you offer?

AS YOUR local travel agent I work from home for Travel Counsellors, a huge and reputable independent travel company.

Everything you book through me is 100 per cent financially protected. Using the very latest technology, I have access to hundreds of suppliers including all the leading airlines, tour operators, hotels, cruise lines and car hire companies which will help me give you a first class

I am able to book everything from late deals to luxury tailor made holidays including cruises, weddings and honeymoons.

WHAT do you enjoy about the job?

I GET just as excited about researching and planning your perfect holiday as I do about my own and will always ensure that your holiday is one that I would very happily go on my-

Hands off our coastal strip say Portlanders over island quarry plan

see the wonder and the beauty of Portland.

"Our coastal strip is one of the most important pieces of Portland land.

"I agree that quarrying needs to be done, but we don't want it done here. This is unique: We are trying to encourage visitors, make it nice for them; make it great for the people of Portland, but most of all this coastal strip is our children's heritage. I don't want my grandchildren to come and say let's go for a walk along the coastal strip and there won't be

"Portland is unique: it's breath taking, it's beautiful, let's keep it this way."

The walk has the backing of the Dorset Campaign to Protect Rural England, whose chairman Richard Nichols, joined their ranks for the walk, and Dorset Ramblers.

The group were keen for the walk not to be described as 'a protest' – but say they came to raise awareness that the coastal strip could eventually be under threat from quarrying.

Under an agreement, dating back to 1951, land owned by Portland Stone Firms is deemed to have permission for quarrying. Islanders fear that, with other sites, now reaching the end of the commercial life, the stone firms could turn to the coastal strip.

But Dorset County Council's Draft Mineral Sites plan has not ear-marked any new Portland sites and specifically says that its Minerals Strategy discourages new surface quarries.

Deadline looms for coastal fund money

NEXT week is the deadline for bids from the Weymouth area for the Coastal Community Fund.

Local business leaders will judge the best ideas on June 15th with entries needing to be submitted by June 13th.

The successful project will be given the backing of the Weymouth Coastal Community Team.

Chair of Weymouth CCT and President of the Chamber of Commerce Michelle Hind said: "We really want to have the best chance of success in our bid to get investment into Weymouth. We have had some fantastic projects put forward already but are open to other projects as well. We would like to invite organisations to submit their ideas for consideration...

"We know that towns have missed out on funding in the past due to organisations bidding against each other and we want to make sure that it doesn't happen here. We have to be in it to win

Any person or organisation looking to submit their "big idea" should be aware the main aim of this government funding is "regeneration and economic growth through projects that directly or indirectly create sustainable jobs and safeguard existing jobs".

Nigel Reed from Weymouth Bid said: "Business Improvement Districts elsewhere have been successful in receiving funding and being part of the Coastal Community Team we hope will strengthen any applications made.

"A recent report that indicated an increasing interest in visiting coastal areas is all part of this and applications that improve the visitor experience have been successful in previous successful applications to the Coastal Community Fund."

The Coastal Community Team includes the Chamber of Commerce. Weymouth Bid, the local and County Council, and Business Leaders from the town and is administered by the Weymouth and Portland Partnership.

Any proposal must follow the guidelines available on www.biglotteryfund.org.uk/ccf and also take into account local strategic plans like the Weymouth Town Centre Masterplan and the CCT Economic strategy.

To submit a proposal or request more information email office.wadt@gmail.com by Monday, June 13th.

It will now function as a stand-alone business and will be renamed Magicard Ltd, staying at the Waverley House site on the Granby Industrial Ultra Electronics will also stay on the site and its 280 staff will be unaffected by the change.

The Magicard products are used in the security and academic sectors and it is believed there could be a larger market for driving licences and with the Government. If this happens the 70-strong workforce could be increased in size

Chief Executive Officer Andy Matko said the investment would allow Magicard to move to the next level with investment in product development, sales and marketing.

Community bus scheme saves rural routes cut by council

DORSET Community Transport is to take over almost half of the 26 rural bus routes lost to county council transport funding cuts.

The Blandford-based community transport organisation, Dorset Community Transport, is helping to reduce the impact of cuts on rural transport routes across the county by operating services on almost half of the routes previously run by Dorset

The biggest impact of the council's £500,000 cuts was on rural bus services operating one or two days a week, with support for 26 services withdrawn, including five routes run by DCT.

At the time, DCT was running a pilot scheme of accessible, door-to-door transport for people who find it difficult to use public transport through its PlusBus service. The end of the pilot coincided with the cuts, allowing DCT to offer 12 services to the community, covering almost half of the bus routes that had been cut.

DCT also decided to subsidise two of the services that it ran for Dorset County Council on an interim basis, as part of the organisations charita-

Service user, Ella Smith, said: "I've been a keen supporter of PlusBus since the withdrawal of the bus services were announced. I can use the service to get into Blandford for my weekly shop and Doctor's visits. It means everything to me, a total life line.'

Tim Christian, general manager at DCT, said: "The council changes happened within a very short time frame and it meant the local community did not have time to come together and find an alternative. However, due to the fact that DCT was already running a pilot, we were able to jump in very quickly with a solution to provide continuity and meet the essential transport needs of the area.'

Passengers will need to pre-book their journey. We are offering a variety of weekly services to a destination town across the county. It is possible to make one-off bookings and also arrange regular

Mr Christian continued: "It's been a big cultural change for the community, but we have worked hard to engage with people on how community transport schemes can be more responsive to their needs for social and leisure journeys. We were overwhelmed by demand, queries and concerns. Now we have been able to settle into the routes that we run, the next step is to improve, refine and expand the service according to the needs identified by the community."

Anna Whitty, CEO of ECT Charity, said: "DCT was able to respond at such short notice because we are an established and professional provider across the county, running successful and exten-

"This is a great example of how community transport can provide a solution for those that are unable to access public transport by virtue of geographic isolation. It's not about replicating other existing successful bus schemes, but about plugging the gaps and, in so doing, reducing rural isolation.'

New park and ride service to begin

WEYMOUTH'S park and ride service will have a new bus service from this Saturday, June 11th.

The service re-opened after the winter break over the late May bank holiday with the previous park and ride buses in use - but from this weekend a new regular bus service will serve the site.

The First bus company, from Saturday, will re-route the existing public bus service 2 via Mercery Road to provide access to the Mount Pleasant park and ride The service will run from 6am until 11pm, seven days a week during the summer month with a bus to the town centre and seafront every 10minutes Monday to Saturday and every 15minutes on Sundays and

The re-routed service will also make it easier for those living on the route to get to Sainsbury's Beefeater, New Look and Premier Inn.

The new arrangement will mean that parking will be free and passengers will pay on the bus at the standard rate of £2 single, or £3 return, with concessionary bus passes valid for travel. First will also offer a special ticket from the park and ride stop of 'Five for a fiver', so five people can travel for £5.

The county council say they have not agreed an end date but will monitor the service throughout the summer and make a decision when demand reduces

Classic cars on tour

AROUND a 100 vehicles of all shapes, sizes and vintages took part in the 17th Hardy Country Classic Tour on Sunday.

Starting at Hampton Farm Business Park at Higher Bockhampton, the tour took in many of the county's scenic locations made famous by Thomas Hardy's novels, finishing at the Riveria Hotel at Bowleaze Cove in Weymouth.

Organiser Nick Aplin, from the group Transport of Yesteryear (Dorset), said he was delighted by the turnout and the on-going success of the tour.

He said: "We are always pleased to see members of the public and all the vehicle owners are happy to chat to people and show-off their pride and joys."

By Trevor Bevins

The Transport of Yesteryear Club's main objective is to promote friendship among its members based on their interest in classic and vintage vehicles.

Members do not have to own a classic car. All they need is a passion for transport and a determination to share their interest with others.

The tour, which was sponsored by Weatherbury Roofing, will see monies being raised for the Weldmar Hospicecare Trust.

"This is our first time here and it's fantastic, a lovely event," said Pat who with her husband has been fundraising in Weymouth and Portland for Weldmar for about 20 years.

Among the car owners was Andy and Alison Collier with their 1972 Mini pick-up, one of just 80 which survive.

"It was refurbished before we got it in 2009, but it needs constant work," said Andy, who points out that there are so few pick-ups left because many were used on farms, or by builders, and simply got beaten to bits.

One of the other cars displayed nearby actually started in bits – Roger Bell took three and a half years to put together his Austin Healey 3000 kit car.

"It really was a labour of love, but worth it," said Roger, from Dorchester, who was attending the event with wife, Monica.

"Austin Healey owners will be able to tell that this is a kit car – but it's a lot more reliable and easier to drive. The real thing was notoriously awkward," said Roger.

MUSICIAN Rich Cottell with students

ISSUES on discrimination, radicalisation and British values weretackled at Wey Valley School with the help of a singer songwriter from Devon.

Muscian Rich Cottell met with year eight, nine and ten students at the Wey Valley School as part of the schools' Personal, Social, Health and Economic course.

More than 500 students took part. Patricia Fisher, Head of PSHE at Wey Valley said: "The students really enjoyed the sessions with some great performances on stage. Our student's knowledge on these important issues have been reinforced by the support of Mr Cottell – a really positive way of learning when it comes from a young person similar to themselves."

Sara Adams, Acting Principal at Wey Valley, added: "I would like to thank Mr Cottell for his visit to Wey Valley.

"The sessions were very informative but also creative and fun with many of our students taking part. We have a really good PSHE programme to ensure our students become wellrounded individuals with a broad understanding of current affairs and issues and today, our students have come away more knowledgeable on these important subjects.

Gardens' picnic party for Queen

A FREE picnic-style Street Party to celebrate the Queen's 90th birthday is being held at Dorchester Borough Gardens on Sunday, June 12th.

The event will also include music from the Mill Street Jazz Band, Viva Women's Community Choir, The Heavens and Shooter.

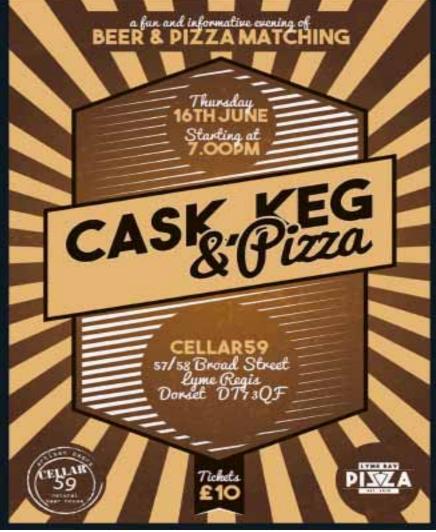

The event will start at noon with a welcome from the mayor, Tim Harries, followed by the Mill Street Jazz Band.

Throughout the afternoon the town council has organised a large screen broadcasting live coverage from the Mall in London

In addition to music there will be a number of charity stalls, a bar, ice creams and food will also be available.

NEARLY 2,000 people poured through Weymouth Pavilion's doors when it hosted the popular annual Best of Dorset Show.

The sold-out event, now in its 16th year, included 40 indoor stands and a dozen outside features ranging from Bluebird's coach holidays and Jurassic electric bikes to the first appearance ever at the show by a fully functioning steam engine.

Paul Mills of leading Show sponsors Weymouth Business Improvement District said: "Our main task is to bring more people into Weymouth and the Best of Dorset Show is one of the ideal events to help us do so

"Visitors could see what Weymouth has to offer and realise that we are a year round resort not just a nice beach.

"The show also brought hoteliers and guesthouse owners up to date with what they can offer their visitors. Everyone was a winner.

A Hardy celebration

DORCHESTER'S most famous resident, Thomas Hardy, was honoured in the county town over the weekend.

Town councillors marched in his honour, Hardy fans listened to academic discussion of his works, walked in his footsteps, and some even danced the night away to music which Hardy might have recognised.

And, as ever, battling with traffic noise, wreaths were laid and extracts from his

One of the delights was a performance by three of the New Hardy Players in the grounds of county hall, prior to the ceremonials. In a scene set in Hardy's kitchen three of his Max Gate staff come across the author's manuscripts and act them out, to the amusement of those watching on Dorchester's mayor, Tim Harries, read a piece written by Hardy in 1899 called "Embarcation" in which he marks the departure of the 2nd Dorsets to Durban for the Boer War. Hardy had cycled from Dorchester to Southampton and back to see the men off.

Other tributes were paid by Dr Tony Fincham, one of the weekend lecturers, and the High Sheriff Sir Philip Williams.

MAJORETTES and dance groups from across the region are being invited to take part in a competition that is being run as part of the Dorchester Carnival weekend of activities.

It will take place on Saturday, June 18th before the procession. Troupes who wish to sign up are being asked to do so via the carnival website, www.dorchestercarnival.org. Those who enter the procession will have automatic entry to the competition.

Les Fry, who is organising the competition, said: "We wanted to have an attraction in Brewery Square as part of the carnival celebrations. We knew there were already going to be lots of maiorette groups in the town, so holding a competition for them seemed like the right thing to do.

"We're going to give them each a set amount of time to show off their skills and then we will choose a winner."

Charlotte Spracklen, centre manager at Brewery Square, said: "We're always keen to have different things going on in Brewery Square and we've never had displays from majorettes before. We're really looking forward to seeing what the groups can do and we hope that lots of peo-ple will come along and watch them."

The competition will start at 2pm and will finish before the procession sets off at 5.30 pm.

For more information call Jenny Webster, procession organiser, on 01305 251661.

Further funding cuts could hit bus network

FURTHER cuts could be on the way to Dorset's bus routes as the county council struggles to find another £1.85million in savings.

Almost half of those savings will have to come from school

The savings come on top of a £500,000 reduction in subsidy agreed earlier this year.

"We must now reduce the public transport subsidy by another £1million and we must also reduce the cost of school transport services by £850,000. These savings must be in place by 2017/18," said Andy Shaw, Service Manager for Dorset Travel. He warns that with the level of savings needed it will not be possible to retain the current public bus network within the revised budgets and many existing services will change.

Among the areas being looked at are prioritising the remaining subsidy on core routes that are able to serve the most people and contribute the most to the economic wellbeing of the county. Also being examined is opening more school services to the public and working closer with community transport operators, community groups and councillors to develop Dorset's community transport network.

You can have your say on Dorset's future transport network by completing a questionnaire available online at - www.dorsetforyou. com/travel-dorset/bus-

The consultation ends on July

The results of the consultation, the Cabinet decision and any implementation information will be published on the review's webpage with the changes expected to come into place in the autumn.

Avenue Interiors

AVENUE INTERIORS moved into Dorchester's Brewery Square November last year and has fast become the go to place for stylish furniture and quirky gifts in Dorchester. Nestled between the Health Centre and Paninis, Avenue Interiors is run by Gary Lancaster and his partner Gaynor, and offers high quality furniture at Dorchester prices, with free local delivery.

At Avenue Interiors you will find traditional, contemporary and retro furniture to suit any decor and, being an independent business, Gary and his partner Gaynor can source almost any item not in stock. Gary says, "We look for quality materials and finish, and cannot resist the tactile and slightly quirky statement pieces, like our giant enamelled fruit. As well as furniture we also stock an extensive range of unusual decorative mirrors, clocks and ornaments, lighting and beautiful throws and cushions. We have new pieces coming in all of the time." Gary developed an appreciation of craftsmanship and a love of wood as a young apprentice carpenter after attending Thomas Hardy School, he later became involved in shop fitting and the refurbishment of pubs and hostelries, where design was a major factor and it was that the birth of Avenue Interiors evolved naturally.

Avenue Interiors has recently created their new website www.avenueinteriors.co.uk which is constantly having new products added and still only shows just a small selection of the stock you will find in the Brewery Square store. You really are encouraged to go and see the lovely stock for yourself especially with Father's Day coming up on 19th June.

Gary continues, "We have only been at Brewery Square for a few months but our customers and the other traders have made the whole experience enjoyable and have been really welcoming and complimentary."

Avenue Interiors is open 7 days a week, 9.30am to 5.30pm Monday to Saturday and 10am to 4pm on Sundays.

Enter Dorchester's Carnival Now!

THINGS are hotting up for a great carnival procession for That way we can make sure that lots of groups benefit Dorchester in June, but it's not too late to enter!

The organisers are encouraging any community groups and local businesses to really get behind the event and join in the carnival spirit.

Jenny Webster, who is organising the procession, said: "The carnival procession really is the highlight of the weekend and we expect lots of people to turn out to watch it." Jenny is well-qualified for this role as her normal job is activities organiser for Maiden Castle House, a residential and dementia care home owned by Care South in Dorch-

Jenny added: "We've already got entries from majorette groups and local schools as well as other community groups, but there is room for plenty more to take part. "All the groups who take part will get a share of the money we collect.

"Businesses can take part too, but we just ask that they nominate a charity to donate their share of the money to. from the event."

Chris Davies, who organised the procession last year, said: "We did find last year that people left it till the last minute to enter. Whilst that is possible, it would be really good if people could let us have their entry forms now.

"We want this to be the best carnival ever for Dorchester and we can only do that with the help and support of everyone in and around the town. The better the procession is, the more money we can raise for the groups who

The carnival procession will take place on Saturday 18 June at 5.30 pm and it is free for anyone to take part. And don't forget, it's not too late to enter and everyone who takes part will get some of the money donated! There is more information and an entry form on the carnival website www.dorchestercarnival.org or you can find out more on the carnival Facebook page or you can call Jenny on 01305 251661.

Armed Forces celebration to be bigger and better than before

FINAL touches are being put to the huge annual Armed Forces Day celebrations in Weymouth which have been officially launched at the Pavilion.

This year the event will be held on June 18th-19th and organisers, Weymouth and Portland council, are delighted at support from the Ministry of Defence which has again given a £7,500 grant towards the event.

Festivities start on Saturday, June 18th, with a magnificent military beach assault and bridge building at the Pavilion end of Weymouth Beach.

This will be followed by a "1940s comes to Portland" event from noon to 4pm at Osprey Leisure Centre, Portland. Stands and displays full of information from various veterans' agencies and charity organisations will be on show for visitors to learn about the important role they play and how to support them.

Weymouth and Portland tourism spokesman Councillor Jason Osborne said: "Weymouth and Portland is very proud to have the prestigious opportunity to stage one of the country's leading annual veterans events.

"The borough embraces every aspect of the celebrations and looks forward to giving a warm and hospitable welcome to many thousands of veterans, armed forces personnel and their visiting family and friends."

One of the popular highlights of this year's Armed Forces Day celebrations will be a major military parade with almost 2,000 proud marching veterans, marching bands and more than 80 historic military vehicles at 11am on Sunday, June 19th. This will be preceded by an openair service at the British Cenotaph on Weymouth Seafront.

The prestigious Band of HM Royal Marines, will lead the Sunday parade, followed by the Royal Engineers undertaking their freedom of the borough parade along Weymouth Seafront celebrating the 300th anniversary of the formation of the Corps.

It will be the last year of organising the beach assault for Warrant Officer 2 Denis Waterman of the Royal Engineers, Wyke Regis, because he is due to retire from the Army in August.

He told the View From Weymouth and Portland: "The event will go on but this will be my last time as organiser so I hope the big day goes well.

"We are delighted to bring back our spectacular Royal Engineers' beach assault display after a year's absence caused by operational duties. Last year the beach assault couldn't be staged because we were away helping deal with the Nepal earthquake and other commitments.

"This year's beach assault will be spectacularly loud. I can't divulge any more but it is going to be highly explosive!

"The unit involved for 2016 will be the Royal Monmouthshire Royal Engineers, a reserve unit from Monmouth."

Weymouth and Portland events manager Charlie Sheppard said: "This is the Armed Forces showcase weekend of the year and one of the biggest military celebrations in the entire country.

"We are delighted to have the band of the Royal Marines leading the parade followed by our much loved veterans."

Mannequin appeal

AN exhibition celebrating village weddings is being held at St Laurence Church in Upwey in July.

Organisers Sue Virgin has been lent photos and dresses by people who were married at the church and is now asking for anyone who can load a mannequin or dummy to get in touch with her.

"We've had a brilliant response to an item in the View From Weymouth in January and will be displaying photos and some dresses from the 1920's to the 2010's. We need to find some more mannequins/dressmaker's dummies to display all the dresses/bridesmaids dresses.

"The exhibition is from the 9th to 17th July and ideally we'd like to have all the mannequins by the end of June to match up the dress and mannequin."

The event is part of a major fund raising appeal to improve facilities at the church.

If you can help please get in touch with Sue Virgin, 01305 267759 or sue.virgin@gmail.com asap.

Talk on Somme

THE next talk presented by the South Dorset branch of Somerset & Dorset Family History Society will be on Friday, June 17th, when Allan Wood presents the Centenary of the Battle of the Somme.

His talk will start at 2.30pm before which there will be the usual tea or coffee being served from 2pm at the venue in St Aldhelm's Church Centre, Spa Rd, Weymouth.

Entry costs £2.

Blacksmiths' poppies feature in WWI memorial Weldmar to host a

KINGSTON Maurward blacksmiths and some of the metal poppies they have made (right)

By Trevor Bevins

BLACKSMITHS at Kingston Maurward College have held a 'forge in' to make metal poppies which will go to an international Cenotaph.

Blacksmiths Simon Grant-Jones, Brian Hill, Rob Fielding, and some of their students made 200 poppies in one day to commemorate the craft's historical involvement.

Their work marks the important part blacksmiths played in war efforts, on all sides, and in September a new World War I Cenotaph will be launched at the Grote Markt, in front of the In Flanders Fields Museum in Ypres Belgium

The Cenotaph will commemorate everyone involved in the conflict, both military and civilian on all sides - all those who died, all those wounded, all those displaced and their families and communities. In honour of this spectacular event blacksmiths across the world are taking part in making 2,016 poppies in total to mark the year.

During the on 'forge-in' campus ten members of the Blacksmiths Guild created the flowers using the template designed by Master Blacksmith Terry Clarke. A competition is also taking place for panels for the cenotaph - of which the winning design and its blacksmiths will go to Belgium to put it together. Kingston Maurward College Principal Clare Davison attended the event and addressed the blacksmiths commending them on their skill and commitment. She said: "We are very proud to be part of such an important commemorative exhibition. It is vital for us as purveyors of this craft to take part in and support something of this scale, something that means so much to the blacksmithing industry both of its past and its worthy involvement in World War I, and also to the black-

right royal tea party

WELDMAR Hospicecare will be celebrating the Queen's 90th Birthday in style this Sunday, June 12th June with an open invitation for anyone to join them.

The charity will be holding a Royal Birthday Tea Party from 2pm to 5pm, in the grounds of Poundbury Farmhouse, Poundbury - by kind permission of The Duchy of Cornwall.

The afternoon will include cream teas, Pimms, refreshments, raffle, face painting and live music to celebrate this milestone

Katie Slade, Events Fundraiser for Weldmar, said "We look forward to a wonderful afternoon with friends, cake and maybe a glass of Pimms to toast a very special birthday. We hope you can join us, wearing your sparkliest tiara or crown and helping to raise funds for Weldmar at the same time."

"This event is being generously sponsored by McCarthy & Stone and its Bowes Lyon Court Assisted Living Platinum development, which is currently under construction in Queen Mother Square."

Kim Caldwell, Sales and Marketing Director for McCarthy & Stone, said: "We are delighted to be sponsoring this fantastic event on behalf of Weldmar.

"It's a great way for everyone to join in the nationwide celebrations for the Oueen's birthday and as Bowes Lyon Court, which was actually named after the late Queen Mother, gears up to welcome its first homeowners this summer, it is important to us that we do our part to help support and grow the local community as much as possible."

Colourfence

COLOURFENCE – The ONLY garden fence you will ever need

Andy and Shelley Stewart, launched Colourfence 3 years ago in Dorset and South Somerset. This has been great news for the area's homeowners who have become frustrated and tired of maintaining their traditional timber fencing!

Colourfence have the alternative to timber fencing..... Our fence is guaranteed not to warp, chip or peel for up to 25 years*. Put an end to painting, an end to rotten posts - an end to constant maintenance! Colourfence goes up, stays up whatever the weather, even against wind gusts of 130mph! Virtually maintenance free, with an occasional wash down with water to keep it looking as good as new. Starting costs are in line with comparable traditional systems but offer the ongoing peace of mind that Colourfence will continue to save time and money year after year. # TARDENS making your garden glorious

Ashley Cooper Turf & Transport

AN exciting new product for us at Ashley Cooper Turf & Transport – Meadow Mats!

Since WW2, 98% of the UKs wildflower meadows have been lost; which is such a shame, as these species-rich areas were also a source of food and shelter for countless insects; butterflies and bees to name two, as well as birds and others that contribute to the food chain. All is not lost though; if every gardener in the UK were to turn 10% of their garden into a wild flower area, we could reinstate 10,000 acres of butterfly habitat!

Hence our new product MeadowMats: - Pre-grown mats to give you instant ground cover. Meadow mats establish fast and will flower in their first season (some not until their second season). Mixed perennial and biennial plants that will keep flowering year after year. Low maintenance. With plant species that are hardy throughout the UK. Types of Meadow Mat available:

Traditional MeadowMat – an old fashioned hay meadow mix of grasses and flowers.

MeadowMat for Birds and Bees – 20% grass, 80% flower mixture, a plant selection especially rich in nectar for summer insects.

Cottage Garden MeadowMat - a glorious blend of native and no-native plants and grasses, bringing a beautiful splash of colour to your garden.

MeadowMat for Woodland Shade – subtle hues of woodland wildflowers into the shadier parts of your garden.

Don't forget all our usual products and services; excellent quality turf – delivered for you to lay, or use our Supply and Lay service. Top soil, bark mulches, etc. Call for further information, or to arrange a free, on site, no obligation quote.

Showcasing new trends

Gardening - Chelsea May 31 - By Hannah Stephenson, Press Association

SUBTLE planting, soft blue, gentle pinks and white palettes, plus a focus on naturalistic designs and a strong health and wellbeing message formed a big part of Chelsea Flower Show this year.

So, what trends will we be taking home? There's no shortage of possibilities, says Sarah Eberle, who won Gold for her Viking Cruises Mekong Garden and also the Best Artisan Garden title.

"We are looking at subdued tones. All the gardens and their plantings are quite naturalistic. They're not full of blousy plantings. We are looking to understand native plants and to protect them. There's suddenly value in the ordinary things that are around us."

The LG Smart Garden plantings would be quite easy to replicate, she says.

"It's easy on the eye to use a soft palette. If you use things stronger in colour it's more difficult because it draws attention to things. So, without a designer eye on how to use strong colour, you can make mistakes. With these paler, softer colours you can't make many mistakes. It all blends together and is harmonious," says Eberle.

The designer Hay Joung Hwang's stunning display for LG featured Digitalis purpurea f. albiflora, with Rosa 'Natasha Richardson', Eremurus robustus, Iris 'Jane Phillips' and Salvia bullulata, but there are plenty more soft-coloured combinations which could add that natural and romantic look at home.

'Hard power' landscaping - the sharp, contemporary urban-style hard landscaping - is being surpassed by landscaping which complements the plants, rather than the other way round. Briza grasses were in abundance at Chelsea this year, as natural plantings took centre stage.

"The 'lifestyle' garden has become a quite subtle environment to be in." she observes.

Another theme which may take off is using gardening as a way to alleviate stress and planting plants with health-giving properties.

Aspects of a wellbeing plot, like 'Queen of Herbs' Jekka McVicar's Modern Apothecary garden, could add style and substance to borders in many gardens.

"Herbs such as lavender and thyme are not only good for animals, but also us," says Eberle. Terracotta pots filled with lavender are ideal for cottage gardens, while certain varieties such as Lavandula angustifolia 'Munstead' are great fragrant evergreens to edge a path.

Lavender will grow in any soil, provided it is well drained and is best in full sun, but will grow in partial shade.

Thyme, another pretty garden stalwart, needs planting in a sunny spot in poor, well-drained soil, so if you're having a go at replicating some of McVicar's thyme combinations and don't have that type of soil, work in lots of grit or grow them in a raised bed or containers.

Diarmuid Gavin's British Eccentrics Garden, with all its moving plants, may set a trend on people adopting some 'Heath Robinson' quirky additions.

"Compared to previous years, the focus was on fun rather than pomp, such as the moving British Eccentrics Garden and Bowden Hostas' Pullman Train," Eberle observes.

"You can add your own sense of fun by always having a sense of humour when you're gardening and not taking it too seriously. Even a comic feature or a garden gnome will do the job."

More naturalised and wild landscapes are features which amateurs may be copying in their own gardens, she adds.

Bee-friendly wildflower meadows, edible plants in pots and insect walls were all in evidence, along with a general feeling that we should be mindful that gardens need to adapt to their environments, as demonstrated in the L'Occitane Garden, a recreation of the beauty of the harsh yet varied land-scape of Provence.

"Native planting is good for our native wildlife. There's still an increasing trend to introduce plants which are good for our butterflies and bees, and providing food for moths and caterpillars. There's a place for building bug walls and other elements which allow wildlife to thrive."

If we are to follow in Chelsea's footsteps, we will be creating gardens featuring all manner of plants with health-giving properties, trying to attract wildlife and which look natural, not too forced or formal, with schemes which are easy on the eye - and relaxing on the mind.

Pirates takeover Portland Museum | Take up the Weymouth

CUTLASSES, coins and cake went hand in hand when Portland Museum held its popular annual Pirate Day.

The museum had a host of attractions from finding treasure with real metal detectors to creating pirate hats, plates and medallions.

Manager Lisa Gravett said: "We also had a treasure hunt, icing pirate biscuits, home-made cakes and pirate gifts.

"The International Guild of Knot Tyers were here to tell people about knots and how to tie them while we also had a fancy dress competition with the winners getting chocolate gold coins.

"Youngsters could try their hand at loading a cannon while a special stand let children try and roll a coin down a slot to drop off and ring a bell in aid of our big project this year to rethatch one of our museum buildings which urgently needs

Take up the Weymouth travel challenge this July

RESIDENTS of Weymouth and Portland are being challenged to leave their cars at home and pick up some prizes along the way.

Running until July 6th, the Community Travel Challenge is asking people to change the way they travel.

Dorset County Council, in partnership with the national charity, Sustrans, aim to reduce the number of journeys made by car as a sole occupant.

To take part people have to log their journeys by foot, bike, public transport, car share and motorbike – or event by scooting or skating.

Any distances you would have normally driven, but instead worked from home or set up a teleconference, also count.

Those who want to join in should reg-

Prizes will be awarded for the most miles logged including vouchers for outdoor clothing and equipment, Amazon and Spotified vouchers, cinema tickets, pedometers and even tickets to a stunt show for the family.

Councillor Peter Finney, Cabinet member for environment at Dorset County Council, said: "The challenge is a fun and exciting way to encourage people to change their travel habits. This is also the first community challenge, where different communities can compete against one another with a bit of friendly competition.

"So, whether you want to get fit, save money or just compete with your friends the challenge will keep you motivated and show you how a small change can have a huge impact."

Party fit for a Queen

A PARTY fit for a Queen is being held at Weymouth's Nothe Fort this Sunday, June 12th, from 5.30pm – 7.30pm

Volunteers will be decorating the Fort with bunting and balloons, there will be musical entertainment and an opportunity to join up with friends and family in the street-party style event.

Visitors are being encouraged to dress in Red, White and Blue with prizes for the most original patriotic costume.

Organisers will provide tables and chairs with those attending asked to bring along their own picnic tea. The Fort View Café will be open for hot drinks, ice creams, snacks and a full bar. A special boxed picnic tea will be available for £5, but these must be ordered at time of booking.

Tickets, at £2, are available from the Nothe Fort Reception.

Weymouth Matters

A personal View by HARRY WALTON

■ THIS week's Growing Old Disgracefully slot considers tea drinking and whether pouring liquid into a saucer and then pouring it back into the cup makes any difference to taste.

Áfter due consideration, the answer has to be a resounding "no" with the only obvious benefit from such an action being to reduce the temperature of the tea.

Of course, anyone sitting nearby gets a few "benefits" themselves from such an elaborate ritual, whether they want them or not.

For a start, there is the nerve jangling scraping noise caused by the pensioner concerned dragging the base of the teacup across the edge of the saucer to collect the last drop of tea spilt down the outside when pouring into the saucer.

Then there is the "huffing and puffing" as the drinker blows across their saucer to cool the contents followed by the bladder bashing noise of the saucer's contents being poured back into the teacun

The final "benefits" are the loud slurping noises and sighs of satisfaction as the pensioner samples the completed cup of tea.

Small wonder then that all this causes shuffles of embarrassment from those watching unless, of course, they're too busy screaming through lips burnt on their own cup of tea.

What price can you put on education?

UNIVERSITIES Minister Jo Johnson has just announced that universities in England will be able to charge above £9,000 per annum for tuition fees from autumn 2017 "if they have high quality teaching".

The aim is to allegedly make it easier for new universities to open and to encourage more competition and better consumer value for students. I wonder if the students see it that way?!

There have already been warnings over the proposals about "inadequate controls" while the National Union of Students is said to be "outraged" at the prospect of yet higher tuition fees and quite right too.

The NUS has also shrewdly highlighted that the proposals could also open up UK higher education to so called "for profit providers".

My own interest in this worrying debate is that I did a degree in the early 1970s which was partly funded by the State. But, as parents, my wife and I had to watch and do what we could to help while first my son was shackled to debt and then my daughter almost buried under it for their degrees.

Should there be a tax on intelligence, a tax on bright new hopes, a tax on the strivings to push borders, push frontiers and push forward? I don't think so.

I never fully appreciated how lucky I was to have most of my degree funded thereby freeing my mind to focus on the pursuit of knowledge and a career.

That is not the case with modern students such as my son and daughter who collectively have a frightening level of debt courtesy of Government "upgrading" of university education "to ensure the best for our young people". What a crock of....well, it's not what the Government says it is.

Yes, there are alleged checks and balances to ensure degree students don't have to repay their debts until their earnings reach a certain level and, yes, Government says it is the best way forward....but we aren't sheep.

Anyone with half a brain can work out that if you are young, hopeful and ambitious that any incentive you might have to carve out a future via a degree is going to be counterbalanced by fears over potential debts

And as for the prospect of university sites existing to make a profit from students, well education must be falling to a new low to allow that to happen.

So think long and hard if you are parents with a child bound for university or thinking of going to university. You should all shop around and be crystal clear on what policy and approach your potential university has to education because the times they are a changing.

Happy Birthday Your Majesty, and here's a present...

SHE came to the throne in 1952, has devoted her life to her subjects and is a role model for all that is noble in this world.

Queen Elizabeth II is an example to everyone and is loved by millions. So what was she doing looking regal in the foyer of a local supermarket?

Well, the answer is that she was on sale for £30. My how the price of a Royal has dropped. Must have been a late Spring special offer!

To be honest, it beggars belief that some people's lives are incomplete without a large plastic figure of the Queen.

Personally speaking, I feel such figures cheapen the respect shown to Her Majesty for reaching her 90th birthday and for reigning for 64 years.

It is no more and no less than crass commercialism, cashing in on the figure of the moment.

Big business is known for its cold blooded pursuit of a profit, but there has to be a point at which they cross a line and I'd suggest that this is it.

Perhaps instead of trying to cash in on the Queen there could be an attempt by big business to come up with a lasting memorial to thank her for what she has done...and I don't mean offering double points for those buying a tatty plastic replicating figure.

FORTHCOMING EVENTS

The Devil's Chair Concert

FOR the first time ever Corscombe will be hosting its own music concert, 'The Devil's Chair Concert', limited to 400 people only.

The event will feature five hours of great music from local talent, and real ale from the bar, plus food from the barbecue and hog roast).

Music starts at 6pm with Birds on a Wire, featuring songs by Sting, Adele, and original material to ease into the evening.

Headliners for The Devil's Chair Concert come in the form of Storm, one of the best cover bands in the South West, but not before Corscombe has been rocked by Kash Folding and The Antics.

Why the Devils Chair? Well Corscombe has its own standing stones, the largest one is known locally as the Devil's Chair.

Visit the website at www.corscombe-fest.org to see more details on the bands, and listen to their music, and to purchase tickets. Advance tickets are on sale now at only £6.95 (including booking fee).

Charlie Hearnshaw brings enchanting clarinet melodies to Lyme

CHARLIE HEARNSHAW plays alto saxophone and also specialises in clarinet, which will add an extra timbre to the classic jazz tunes and original compositions which he will play, accompanied by pianist Philip Clouts, at the Marine Theatre Bar on Sunday, June 19th.

Hearnshaw has played, recorded and broadcast with many top jazz musicians from the UK and abroad including Don Weller, Andy Sheppard, Alan Barnes and the late great Slim Gaillard.

Charlie was born in Birmingham and moved to Devon in the Seventies to study classical clarinet, piano and composition at Dartington. Modern jazz clarinet has been his main focus and he has run his own jazz guartet since leaving music college. At the same he has worked in other genres including Hot Club, Trad Jazz, Folk and Rock.

He plays clarinet with Projet Brassens, who perform jazz versions of Georges Brassens' music. Over the years he has also collaborated as composer and performer with dance and theatre companies. He recently made a documentary film with original music, 'Victorian Spinning In The Twenty First Century'.

In a separate venture, Charlie has recorded clarinet and sax accompanied by various animals, birds and machines: Sheepsong and Jura Solo proving to be two of his most popular tracks in this style.

In the late nineties he met Deep House producers The Rurals and, enthused by the freedom which accompanies the style, has since recorded dozens of tracks with them on alto sax. They toured together to South Africa in 2012.

Many of Hearnshaw's compositions have an infectious Caribbean or African lilt to them, all filtered through his very melodic approach to jazz, and they have a very wide appeal.

Jazz in the Bar, Marine Theatre, is on Sunday, June 19th at 8pm. Tickets are £10, available from the box office on 442138 or online www.marinetheatre.com.

Variations of Pointe

VARIATIONS OF POINTE is an exciting new triple bill encompassing all aspects of ballet: grace, elegance and entertainment with something for everyone.

The first piece in our triple bill is Niewelt's adaptation of Petrouchka to music by Stravinsky. The story is set inside a magical puppet workshop where the marionettes come to life and is a dramatic tale of love and jealousy between a beautiful ballerina doll and her admirers.

The second piece brings the antics of René Artois and his friends working to thwart Herr Flick and his compatriots in Allo Allo translated into dance and guaranteed to have you rolling around in your seats with laughter.

The third piece, Transitions of (I)dentity shows beautiful pared down, elegant and pure movements to the music of Vivaldi and promises to be a feast for the senses.

JSLN Dance Company is an international neo classical ballet company, founded in 2012.

Variations of Pointe will be performed at the Marine Theatre TONIGHT Wednesday, June 8th, and Thursday, June 9th, at 7.30pm each night.

Tickets are £12, or £10 concessions, and a Theatre-Friends discount is available.

Bristol Old Vic Theatre School bring A Midsummer Night's Dream to Bridport

THE HIGHLY acclaimed Bristol Old Vic Theatre School return to Bridport Arts Centre with their latest production, the much loved A Midsummer Night's Dream on Tuesday, June 14th

In this innovative production the story is set not in Athens but a 19th Century Yorkshire Woollen Mill; a time when a mill owner was an autocratic Industrial Magnate, wielding political, industrial and economic power that influenced the lives of all those around them. The whole infrastructure of the town stemmed from the Mill, providing housing, schools, a hospital, libraries and dawn to dusk employment. The Director, Christoper Scott felt this setting and period gave a context that echoed Shake-speare's Theseus as Lord of all he surveyed. Other characters then became workers, supervisors, foreign suppliers of materials and even a Clergyman upholding the morals of Victorian society.

This production has also taken a fresh look on casting and turned a blind eye to gender, as did Shakespeare himself, allowing in some cases, women to play men just as Shakespeare allowed men to play women. This cross gender casting is becoming more evident in contemporary classical productions, allowing for exciting interpretations and the questioning of gender stereotypes. It also adds to the mayhem and comedy in this enduring masterpiece

Since its foundation in the 1940s by Laurence Olivier The Bristol Old Vic Theatre School has been recognised as one of the leading drama schools in the country. This regional tour is a fantastic opportunity to see the stars of tomorrow, already highly accomplished actors, here in Bridport. One not to be missed.

Tickets are £12 or £10, available online at www.bridport-arts.com or by calling 01308 424204.

Joint choral and brass concert at All Saints School

WEYMOUTH CHORAL Society is delighted to announce an exciting event – a joint concert with Weymouth Concert Brass, to take place on June 18th at All Saints' School, under the batons of Musical Directors Helen Brind and Kevin Goodwin, supported by accompanist Louise Dukes. Following the very successful guest appearance of the band with the Choral Society last summer, these two popular local groups of musicians will once again join forces for a varietypacked evening of music-making.

The concert will feature many different genres including pop, musical theatre, opera and oratorio, and will acknowledge year. Weymouth Choral Society will demonstrate their eclectic repertoire as they sing songs inspired by the words of Shakespeare, the 400th anniversary of his death, then passing through folk and spiritual the sacred chorus and the more light-hearted 'Songs from the Shows'.

In celebration of Queen Elizabeth II's 90th birthday there will be musical fireworks including fanfares, anthems and a rousing 'Last Night of the Proms' finale. The band and choir will join forces for the inspirational 'Hallelujah Chorus' and Verdi's reflective 'Chorus of the Hebrew Slaves'. Weymouth Concert Brass will play their competition piece 'A Cambrian

Suite' by Michael Ball, a leading composer of brass band music. The piece features variations on three folk themes and moves through a wide range of styles and emotional moods – a wonderful showcase for the talented players of Weymouth Concert Brass, who will also demonstrate their versatility with pieces by The Beatles and Oueen!

Ska stars Orange Street and Bug Tree Swamp set to bring the party to Symondsbury

ORANGE STREET and Bug Tree Swamp will be playing live in the Tithe Barn, Manor Yard, Symondsbury on Saturday, July 2nd.

Orange Street was formed in 1996 by two brothers Lee and Ryan Fletcher with some school friends. They have eight members and have been playing venues across the South since they first started. They have supported Madness at Guilfest and have been joined on stage by various members of the Specials. One of their original songs "Rough" has previously gone to number one in the Ska charts.

They played at Jurassic Fields Music Festival last year and are looking forward to heading this way again to treat us to an evening of SKA! With covers from bands like The Specials, Bad Manners and Madness to name a few.

Local Bridport band Bug Tree Swamp are the supporting band for the evening. The best rocksteady Jurassic Ska band, they can often be seen with a lively dance floor around the pubs and venues in the Bridport area.

There will be a New Orleans style BBQ in the Tithe Barn garden – offering ribs & jerk chicken etc.

Tickets are just £10 and are selling fast, so be sure to get yours! You can either call the office on 01308 424116 or buy them on the website: www.symondsburyestate.co.uk They are also available in Symondsbury Store.

CALL FOR PROPERTIES IN DORCHESTER

DEMAND for quality rental homes in Dorchester and surrounding villages is red hot and Tarnia Wheeler, Lettings Manager at Greenslade Taylor Hunt, urgently needs new properties to add to her stock for waiting applicants.

Throughout June, July and August she is offering new landlords half price set up fees and reduced management fees for the first letting of their property.

All kinds of properties are required, but three and four-bedroom family homes are in particularly short supply and are snapped up as soon as they come onto the market.

Would-be tenants looking for homes in the town and surrounding villages. Many are relocating from other parts of the country often as a result of a job move and are keen to rent in an area and get a feel for the place before taking the plunge and buying a property.

Other tenants are downsizing so one and two bedroom are flats also attracting a lot of interest. The age of a property is less of an issue with many tenants preferring an older, character home, while others enjoy the ease of maintenance of a modern home.

If you would like helpful, expert advice on letting out a property please contact Tarnia on 01305 268786 or call into the office at Westgate House, 45 High West Street, Dorchester.

> Tarnia has many years experience of the lettings industry and the local market and can give you tailored advice to suit your needs. Tarnia is also a member of ARLA - the Association of Residential Lettings Agents which is committed to driving up standards in the industry.

Škoda deliveries, sales revenue and operating profit increase in first quarter

The Czech automaker's deliveries, sales revenue and operating profit have increased over the first three months of this year. This was ŠKODA's strongest start to a new year ever, with sales increasing 4.3% to 276,600 vehicles in the first quarter. Sales revenue increased 6.4% in the same period to 3.379 billion euros; operating profit rose 30.2% to 315 million euros.

"ŠKODA has made an excellent start to the year," says ŠKODA CEO Bernhard Maier, adding, "We have seamlessly continued the success of last year into the first quarter of 2016. We owe this especially to our strong model range, with the new ŠKODA SUPERB as an additional driving force, our highly motivated workforce and our commercial partners in the markets. The encouraging sales figures and strong financial results of the first quarter provide a solid foundation for further profitable growth. Our next model campaign begins with the upcoming launch of the new ŠKODA KO-

DIAO."

ŠKODA's sales revenue rose 6.4 % to 3.379 billion euros between January and March 2016 (first quarter of 2015: 3.175 billion euros). Operating profit increased 30.2 %, reaching 315 million euros (first quarter of 2015: 242 million euros). Operating margin rose to 9.3% after 7.6% in the first quarter of the previous year. The higher profitability was primarily due to positive mix effects and better product costs.

"Thanks to this strong first quarter, ŠKODA's profitable growth has continued and the company has again confirmed its financial strength and profitability," explains ŠKODA CFO Winfried Krause. "Although the economic conditions remain challenging and the situation in some markets is difficult, we can build on our financial strength,' adds Krause.

Ford launches sporty new ST-Line Fiesta and Focus models

FORD have announced a new ST-Line model range for Europe, featuring vehicles with sporty styling inspired by Ford Performance and offering a range of powerful and efficient EcoBoost petrol and TDCi diesel powertrains.

ST-Line launches with the Fiesta ST-Line – priced from £15,645 - and Focus ST-Line - priced from £20,595 both available to order now.

Delivering bold exterior and interior designs inspired by Ford's acclaimed Fiesta ST and Focus ST performance models, the new Focus ST-Line and Fiesta ST-Line are designed for customers who aspire to the sporty image of Ford's ST models - but do not require the full performance delivered by optimised ST engines and chassis with sports technologies.

Both Focus ST-Line and Fiesta ST-Line are offered with a range of powerful engines including Ford's multiaward-winning 1.0-litre EcoBoost petrol engine; sport suspension and body styling; unique alloy wheel designs; and sport seats, sport steering wheel and alloy pedals for the interior.

"With our new ST-Line range even more customers can experience sporty style and driving dynamics inspired by our most exciting Ford Performance line-up ever, that includes models such as the Focus RS, new Fiesta ST200 and Ford GT supercar" said Roelant de Waard, vice president, Marketing, Sales & Service, Ford of Europe. "This year we expect to sell 40,000 performance cars in Europe, a 50 per cent increase compared with 2015, which in turn saw performance car sales rise by 61 per cent compared with 2014."

Sporty styling

Available in 3-door and 5-door bodystyles, the Fiesta ST-Line is a sporty new addition to the UK's best-selling car. The 5-door and estate Focus ST-Line models further enhance the appeal of the popular family car.

Ford ST-Line models deliver ST-inspired styling that

- A honeycomb design for the trapezoidal front grille; fog lamps with dark surrounds; and a front bumper lip spoiler for Fiesta ST Line and bumper insert for Focus ST-Line
- A rear diffuser element and large rear roof spoiler for both models
- A black beltline beneath the windows, deep sideskirts and ST-Line exterior badging on the front wings Unique 17in alloy wheels for Fiesta ST-Line and
- Focus ST-Line, both in Rock Metallic Grey Sport seats with red stitching and a perforated
- leather ST-style steering wheel with grey stitching ■ ST-style gear knob, a dark woven headliner, and ST-Line scuff plates

Powerful and efficient engines

The new Ford ST-Line models are available only with high-power engine derivatives that complement the enhanced driving dynamics delivered by sport suspension – lowered by 10mm.

The Fiesta ST-Line is offered with petrol engine options including:

- 100PS and 125PS 1.0-litre EcoBoost engines with five-speed manual transmission delivering 99g/km CO2 emissions and 65.7mpg fuel efficiency*
- 140PS 1.0-litre EcoBoost with five-speed manual transmission delivering 104g/km CO2 and 62.8mpg Also offered for Fiesta ST-Line is Ford's 95PS

1.5-litre TDCi diesel with five-speed manual transmission, offering 94g/km CO2 and 78.5mpg.

The Focus ST-Line is offered with petrol powertrains ranging from 125PS to 182PS and with six-speed manual and six-speed automatic transmissions, including:

- 125PS 1.0-litre EcoBoost delivering from 108g/km CO2 and 60.1mpg
- 150PS and 182PS 1.5-litre EcoBoost delivering from 127g/km CO2 and 51.4mpg

Ford's 1.5-litre TDCi diesel produces 120PS delivering 99g/km CO2 and 74.3mpg; or 2.0litre TDCi with 150PS delivering from 105g/km CO2 and 70.6mpg are available on the Focus ST-Line with six-speed manual and six-speed

PowerShift automatic transmissions

Focus ST-Line will also feature steering wheel-mounted paddle shifters when an automatic transmission is specified.

"The new Fiesta ST-Line and Focus ST-Line will offer customers a chance to enjoy the famous fun-to-drive characteristics and great looks of Ford's performance models in an exciting and affordable package with a broad range of petrol and diesel engines - and we will be introducing two further models later in the year," de

Epitomising elegance

The all new Audi A5 and S5 coupé

NINE YEARS after it first cut a dash and subsequently established itself as a modern-day Audi design icon, the all-new Audi A5 Coupé has undergone both a technological transformation and an artfully crafted styling evolution that brings it absolutely up to date and introduces a fresh, contemporary look while still retaining the graceful presence and elegant character of the original.

Its beautifully flowing bodywork has been aerodynamically optimised to deliver a drag coefficient of just 0.25, while beneath the skin is a new platform that reduces weight by up to 60kg over its predecessor. A range of powerful TDI and TFSI engines and an even more advanced suite of infotainment and driver assistance systems that are at the cutting edge of Vorsprung durch Technik also converge on thenew Audi A5 Coupé.

Body

The new Audi A5 Coupé sports a modern and honed look. It is nevertheless true to its DNA with the dynamic and elegant character being passed down to the new version. The best example is the waveshaped shoulder line that already characterised the previous model. pronounced bulges over the wheel arches emphasises all four wheels – a cue to the quattro all-wheel drive.

The perfectly balanced proportions that comprise the long bonnet, the stretched wheelbase and short overhangs underscore the muscular presence of the new A5 Coupé. The sculpted Singleframe grille is significantly flatter and wider than in the previous model. The LED rear lights and optional LED or Matrix LED headlights with dynamic turn signals make high-end technology visible even after dark.

The Audi A5 Coupé is significantly more efficient than its predecessor. This is due in large part to a reduction in weight and a design that goes hand in hand with sophisticated aerodynamics. The engineers were able to trim kerb weight by as much as 60 kilograms. The body is the lightest in the competitive field thanks to an intelligent mix of materials and lightweight design. With a drag coefficient of 0.25, the A5 Coupé is also the segment leader with respect to aerodynamics.

The new Audi A5 Coupé will launch in the UK with five engines: two TFSI and three TDI units. Their power output has increased considerably and is now between 190PS and 286PS. Compared with the previous model, they offer up to 17 percent more performance while consuming as much as 22 percent less fuel. All of the engines combine high efficiency with impressive power and smooth running – especially the two 3.0 TDI six-cylinder engines.

With its newly developed 3.0 TFSI, the Audi S5 Coupé is now in a league of its own. The turbo V6 exhibits highly efficient, sports car performance. From its 2,995 cc of displacement, the boosted sixcylinder engine produces 354PS of power, which is 21PS more than the engine in the previous model.

Drivetrain

The new Audi A5 Coupé comes with a drivetrain solution tailormade for each engine variant. The manual six-speed gearbox and the seven-speed S tronic are used with the four-cylinder engines as well as the 218PS 3.0 TDI with front- or allwheel drive. The eight-speed tiptronic is reserved for the top diesel with 286PS and the S5 engine. Both engines come standard with quattro all-wheel drive. Audi also offers the optional rear-axle sport differential for even more dynamic driving and precision.

The new quattro with ultra technology, which debuted on the new Audi A4 allroad quattro 2.0 TFSL is also available on the Audi A5 Coupé. At the moment it can be combined with the four-cylinder TFSI and TDI engines with manual transmission. Optimised for efficiency, the drive system does not exhibit any perceptible differences to permanent systems in terms of traction and driving dynamics.

Chassis

The all-new chassis is among the strengths of the Audi A5 Coupé. It offers the driver optimal comfort combined with a high degree of agility. The A5 thus handles narrow, winding mountain roads and long trips on the motorway with equal aplomb. Audi offers a suspension with damper control as an option. This is integrated into the dynamic handling system known as Audi drive select, which enables the driver to modify the basic characteristic in multiple steps.

A new electromechanical power steering setup adapts according to the vehicle's current speed and provides highly precise road feedback. Optionally available is the dynamic steering, which varies its gear ratio depending on the speed and steering angle.

Interior

The interior benefits from the increased dimensions and longer wheelbase. Space for driver and passengers is more generous. The horizontal architecture of the instrument panel and the continuous air vent strip create a wide sense of space.

As is typical for Audi, interior build quality is uncompromisingly high. High-quality materials in a wide range of colours provide for a particularly pleasant ambiance and underscore the premium character of the mid-sized model. Optional ambient lighting highlights the interior with a choice of 30 adjustable shades.

The new A5 Coupé also redefines the class benchmark for aeroacoustics. The acoustic comfort is almost that of a luxury class model.

Display and controls

The A5 Coupé is now available for the first time with the optional Audi virtual cockpit, a 12.3-inch TFT display with a resolution of 1,440 x 540 pixels. Together with the MMI navigation plus including 8.3-inch monitor on the centre console, it forms the central information unit. The focal point of the MMI terminal is the round rotary pushbutton. Its surface is home to the touch-sensitive touchpad. The touchpad is used to input characters and also for multifinger gestures, enabling the driver to zoom in on the map, Infotainment and Audi connect When Audi connect is specified, a separate SIM card is permanently installed in the car with a flat rate data plan. The new Audi A5 Coupé uses this to connect to the Internet via the ultrafast LTE network. Use of the versatile Audi connect services is complimentary for three months, and can be extended via a subscription beyond this period. The respective national provider is selected automatically as needed in most European countries as needed, eliminating roaming charges when driving abroad.

The A5 will also be available with the Audi connect safety & service package. This includes such functions as an automatic emergency call in the event of an accident, online roadside assistance and Audi service request as well as remote functions that can be used with the MMI connect app on a smartphone, smartwatch or - in conjunction with the fourth generation Apple TV – from a television.

Driver assistance systems

An intelligent combination of different technologies enhances the safety, comfort and efficiency of the new Audi A5 Coupé. At the same time, Audi is also taking the next step toward piloted driving. The broad choice of innovative driver assistance systems sets standards in the segment. Compared with the previous model, nearly all of the systems are either completely new or have been extensively updated.

The predictive efficiency assistant helps the driver save fuel, Audi active lane assist helps keep the car on track in the driving lane, and the Stop&Go adaptive cruise control including traffic jam assist offers the driver relief in slow-moving traffic.

New and important safety features include the park assist, cross traffic assist rear, exit warning, collision avoidance assist and turn assist as well as the Audi pre sense systems. Camera-based recognition of traffic signs rounds out the lineup.

The new Audi A5 Coupé will launch in the UK in winter 2016.

The Audi S5 Coupé

The new Audi S5 Coupé combines dramatic elegance with the performance of a sports car. Its newly developed, turbocharged V6 engine produces 354PS and is capable of 62mph from rest in 4.7 seconds. The sharper S exterior design and the S-specific details in the interior underscore the dynamic character of the Audi two-door sports coupé.

Summer football news - Dorchester Town

BY STUART BROOM

Jermyn starts squad rebuilding process

Holmes due head for Wimborne - midfielder Wood arrives from Bideford

ESPITE restrictions to his budget caused by the uncertainty of the park & ride scheme situation, Dorchester Town manager Mark Jermyn has started to build his squad for next season with confirmation that four of the current squad have agreed terms for the coming year.

Skipper Jake Smeeton, defenders Nathan Walker and Matt Oldring and utility player Jason Brookes are set to join keeper Shane Murphy at The Avenue next term along with new signing Ben Wood who joins the Magpies from Bideford Town.

The 27-year-old teacher who hails from Sherborne, is a pacey attacking midfielder that has showed in games against the Magpies this season that he has a good eye for goal and a vicious shot, and will be the ideal replacement for Charlie Davis who has left the club to sign for Weymouth.

Wood who had a spell with the Terras also played for Yeovil Town and Frome Town and made over 200 appearances for the Robins, has won the Toolstation Western League and South West Southern League with his previous clubs.

The Magpies boss said: "We're really happy he has signed. He was someone we were watching out for last season but budget restrictions prevented us making a move, but he will be a great addition to the club and Ben is relishing the opportunity to play for Dorchester.

Jermyn also confirmed that both Toby and Luke Holmes had left the club and had signed for Wimborne Town who is now managed by Luke's father Matty

On the departures Jermyn said: "We had agreements with two of the three, but for reasons we were unable to keep them. However I don't see it as a problem. We've still got a couple of months until the beginning of the season so it gives us an opportunity to go out and start the search all over again."

Asked if uncertainty over the park & ride situation which has led to adjustments to the budget was hampering his options on new signings, the county town boss said: "I think there is some truth in that, I would be silly to think otherwise, but last year we managed to attract players because of how we were running the club and where we wanted to take it.

"We have to work with what we've got, and who knows in a few weeks time it could be back to here it was. I do have a figure in mind which I'm working to, but at the moment we are more interested in players with a positive mind and willing to work hard.

"It was important that we kept some key people which we've done, and we expect more to follow them, following further talks.

Among those in on-going talks are midfielder Frankie Clarke, central defender Chris Dillon, Neil Martin and defender Ben Watson who had a spell at the club last season on loan from AFC Bournemouth.

Jermyn wasn't only depending on signing players with experience, and was looking forward to pre-season where he is encouraging local young talent to turn up for pre-season training.

Seventeen-year-old Tom Blair who broke into Bridport's first team towards the end of the last campaign is a typical example of who the club are targeting.

"I think it would be a good opportunity for him to come in and for us to have a look at him.

"Unlike our local rivals, we do not have the budget they have and are therefore working towards what we have got, but this means that we are willing to give potential youngsters in our area a go and put them in the forefront and see how far they can go themselves and with the club, which we proved last year with interest in Charlie Davis, Bradley Tarbuck and obviously Jonah Ayunga. You never know we might find another Jonah!"

Asked if he was pleased with what he had achieved at the club so far he added: "Last year we set our stall out and achieved what we wanted to do, although we fell a little bit short on what we might have achieved, but when you look at the players we attracted we have proved we can do it once and this year we will prove it again.

"One thing we learned about our problems after Christmas was we didn't have enough depth in the squad to cope with injuries and suspensions. One thing we will be doing is to learn to look after people better in respect of injuries and be sure that we allow them the full time to recover and not have to rush them back.

"It was always going to be difficult and the first thing was to rally the troops and ensure survival which we did. The second season saw us identify some aspects and players, and although we don't have a big budget and can't be frivolous but I think we are doing okay. "It's been a somewhat delayed start, but we are happy with the way things are moving forward now."

Cricket extras - Charlton Down

Charlton Down named first Team of the Month

years wasn't enough to set the pulse racing at Charlton Down, they have set a cracking pace this season by winning the first Dorset Funeral Plan Team of the Month award of the sea-

Despite stepping up another division, their blend of local youngsters and experienced campaigners have already demonstrated their prowess and determination to try to make it four in a row with an explosive start to the new season.

They won their first four matches in May and accumulatws more points than any other team in the league.

They continued their good form in front of the sponsors who visited Herrison Oval on Saturday to present the award by comprehensively beating Blandford 2nds.

DESPITE admitting his side were beaten by the better team, Weymouth captain Simon Browne was pleased with the progress the Seasiders have made this term, despite losing four of the six matches played to date.

"I have no complaints about the result: they batted, fielded and bowled better than us; so you are always going to struggle if you can't match them in at least one of the disciplines"

He added "They had a relatively slow start, but didn't lose any wickets and we dropped five catches at pivotal times which would have got the target down to something a bit more manage

BEAMINSTER finally got off the mark, gaining their first victory of the season with a narrow one wicket victory against Sherborne 2nds

It was a tense chase for the hosts who required nearly 100 runs in the last 15 overs with five wickets left, but with Ross Baker playing a captain's innings with an unbeaten 64, he battled hard with the tail as Beaminster won with one over to spare.

After winning the toss Sherborne 2nd's looked set for a huge total. After Adam Herring (1-36) had dismissed opener Laird, they raced to 147-1.

However, youngster Fergus Rees (3-33) dismissed their dangerous skipper Adam Smith (89) and Dave Barnstable (51) after they had shared a 115 run partnership, and with fellow slow bowler Ali Crawford (2-37) combined to gain control of the (REVISED TARGET 249) BY 89 RUNS THIS match was marred by a serious knee injury to Will Caldwell which saw the game delayed for an hour, and subsequently saw Dorchester's innings reduced to a revised target of 249 from 29

The hosts had reached 46-0 after eight overs when Caldwell was injured, and then raced to 137 before suffering their own injury when opener Stuart Ingram (24) retired after pulling a muscle.

Scott Maidment continued to score freely before Nathan Quinn (1-30) bowled him five short of his century.

Captain Phil Park continued the onslaught and was unbeaten on 85 at the close.

Set to chase a rate of over eight an over, former Dorchester skipper Martyn Richards (51), making a rare appearance, and Eiron Fitzgerald (48) put on 108 for the first wicket.

Lyme Regis Sailing

Learning lots

WHILE the wind on Sunday failed to fill in sufficiently for a race to be run until later afternoon, youth training sessions were held for three Oppie groups, the youngest sailors, on Saturday and the older Tuesday group had an exciting session. Helping as a volunteer with the Tuesday group is Chet Gillespie, who came through the youth section himself and now has a share in his own boat. Chet is taking sailing as part of his Duke of Edinburgh award, tutored by Jim Thomas. This week, he helmed a Pico, with newcomer Merlin Thompson as his crew, and managed well in the stiff breeze and northerly gusts.

The number of boats on the water was restricted due to the skills needed to sail in the conditions, with cover from two RHIBs and the club launch. "All coped really well, one or two needed a bit of assistance but all were thrilled to have experienced the challenge of a short session on the water," said Jim.

On Saturday, the newest of the Oppie groups had further instruction on tacking and gybing, difficult essentials to master, and made good use of the trainer sponsored by Chris Turner.

They launched their boats and had practice at both manóeuvres, a fair breeze helping.

Meanwhile, the intermediates and Oppie race group were instructed by Simon Clark and Simon Ransome-Williams a little further off shore.

There was a much closer contest at the top of Division Three with the top three all carding a nett 68 but Mike Huxford came out the winner after count-back

RESULTS:

Division One; 1st Patrick Harper 78-12=66, 2nd Lewis Craddock 76-9=67, 3rd Matt Gale 79

Division Two; 1st Phil Lathey 83-17=66, 2nd (acb) Roger Galpin 88-16=72, Ian Thacker 87-

Division Three; 1st (acb) Mike Huxford 93-25=68, 2nd (acb) Rod Condliffe 87-19=68, 3rd Richard Fox 87-19=68.

Lathev had his handicap cut by two strokes. Harper, Craddock, Huxford & Fox by one. The Juniors' June Medal was won by Patrick Harper with a fine score of 75-14= 61 which earned him a two shot handicap cut. Just nine players turned out for the Midweek Medal on Wednesday, May 25th which was won by Bryn Dare scoring 89-15=74. Angus Nicoll came in second with 92-16=76 and third was Larwence Turner 99-22=77.

There was a Stableford competition open to all sections on Bank Holiday Monday. Thirty-four players entered but Judy Walters was very much the rose among the thorns.

The winner, by the considerable margin of five points, was Barry O'Mahony (10) with 39 points. In second place was junior Kieran Mulhall (6) carding 34 points.

The next four players all came in with 33 points and Tony Burwood (23) pipped these into the third spot after count-back.

Veterans' Section

WITH some veterans playing in an afternoon home match versus DUDSBURY, the Thursday morning competition was a self-entry, single division Stableford

Thirty-seven entered on a dull morning and the strong northerly wind kept the scores to a fairly modest level.

Bryan Holmes and Bob Dennis lead the field both scoring 35 points with Holmes taking the top spot after count-back Results: 1st (acb) Bryan Holmes (19) 35 points, 2nd Bob Dennis (21) 35, 3rd Roy Mathisen(24) 34, 4th Keith Hicks(18) 33, 5th (acb) Keith Brown(13) 32.

Ladies Section by Di Neal

A FIELD of 32 ladies played in The President's Shield last Tuesday with the course in fantastic condition, having hosted the Dorset Men's Championship two days before - so the pin positions and greens were tricky for us ordinary

The wind, which hadn't been present all weekend, decided to blow a hooley which was reflected in the scores. Afterwards Club President Mike Thompson presented the shield to the winner Liz Thompson who scored 29 points. In second place again was Janie Dowling on 28.

In the Mail on Sunday competition the team of Sue Walsh, Julie Oliver, Carole Brown, Liz Thompson & Nicky Stone have reached the 6th round having beaten East Devon at home.

In the Daily Mail Foursomes Marion Hurley & Sue Walsh won the fifth round at Tiverton.

Finally, in The Parkin Cup Liz Thompson, Viv Gill & Sally Woolmington were successful at Cranford School and are now through to the quarter finals.

Davis moves over the Ridgeway to Terras

Dorchester Town midfielder Charlie Davis as manager Jason Matthews looks to assemble a squad he hopes will take them to at least the Evo-Stik South Premier Division play-offs after just missing out in the last two

The former Poole Town youngster looked set to remain at The Avenue and in an interview at the end of the season intimated that he had no reason to be stay if the Magpies could keep the foundations of the team that manager Mark Jermyn had built.

Davis who is a very gifted player but has also shown his aggressive side and fallen foul of the referee on a number of occasions, won the Magpies Golden Boot and online player of the year at the end of season awards, but has a change of heart and penned a one-year deal with Weymouth.

Davis will bolster the Terras midfield which has seen George Rigg and Luke Winsper leave the club at the end of the season. Certainly his work rate and enthusiasm will be a great asset.

Matthews has also confirmed the signing of Sam Jordan from Toolstation League Premier Division side Bradford Town.

100 goals for the Wiltshire club in the last two seasons, including 26 in 32 league and cup games last season, and Matthews will certainly welcome his scoring prowess on board to bolster their goals for Judging by his performances against Bridport at St Mary's Field in the last two years he has been a handful, and if he can make the step-up in standard they have a bargain.

The signings take the number of players signed for the Terras up to 14, with Matthews hoping to sign another couple before the start of the season.

Linda at the double

17 League shields were presented at the Moonfleet 2000 Indoor Bowls Club's Winter 2015/16 Presentation evening recently.

The limited numbers event was fully subscribed by members and held in the club's restaurant area with a meal prepared and served by volunteer members prior to the presentations by the club's President Madge Churches.

The awards were completed with the presentation to the winning singles players.
Linda Bryson (left) lifted both the Ladies and the Veteran Ladies trophies while the Men's Trophy was won by Darren Nutman and D.Taylor won the Veteran Men's Trophy.
